

Evening Star

Almar

We will sail on forever
On to the land of the evening star
    Into the endless we ride
    Unveil the darkness behind
    Abandoned glory hidden, castaway we ride
        Now will the sky surrender
        Forever through the never
    A silent whisper echoes through my restless heart tonight
        I will see the glory rise
        We'll be one tonight
    Don't you shut your eyes in silence
    Tonight gather near, come and live your fear
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
        You live for the right to be free
        We will sail on forever
        On to the land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
        The land of the evening star
        Now and forever after
        Asylums filled with laughter
    Suspicion haunts my dreams and echo through my mind
        This starlit gaze reminds me
        Are you so blind you can't see?
    The winds of change my friend will blow for you in the dead night
        I will see glory rise
        We'll be one tonight
    Don't you shut your eyes in silence
    Tonight gather near, come and live your fear
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
        You live for the right to be free
        We will sail on forever
        On to the land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
        The land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
        You live for the right to be free
        We will sail on forever
        On to the land of the evening star
    In a land of desire your heart filled with fire
