

Disconnected

The Dreaming

I have crawled a million miles to reach you (to reach you)
But you won't hear a single word I say
Every thought got lost in the translation
Every word pushed you farther away

Now my world is disconnected
I can't feel, I'm disconnected
Nothings real, I'm disconnected
You can never touch me now

Still I try to reach you through the darkness
But the emptiness is more than I can stand
I think it's time we cut these cords that bind us
I think it's time we let this story end

Now my world is disconnected
I can't feel, I'm disconnected
Nothings real, I'm disconnected
You can never touch me now

I think it's time we cut these cords that bind us
I think it's time we let this story end

My whole world is disconnected
I can't feel, I'm disconnected
Nothings real, I'm disconnected
You can never touch me now

Disconnected

Disconnected
