What Could Have Been...

Callenish Circle

Fearless I pushed the switch, causing you
Suddenly to disappear
The echo of thunder again reduced
Never thought you would leave meStill chasing time, so close
Yet so far apart
My understanding is killing me
I know you had to follow your heartDon't look at me now
It's for your own good
Just to walk away
Road end remainsDon't look at me now
It's for your own good
Just to walk away
Road end remainsThe unspoken truthAll hopes merged into stone
Terrified of the unknown
What could have been I realizeAll hope merged into stone
Terrified of the unknown
Is now forever goneLet it slip through my fingersDon't look at me now
It's for your own good
Just to walk away
Road end remainsDon't look at me now
It's for your own good
Just to walk away
Road end remainsNot aware of the scarlet claw
Seemingly uncomplicated
What could have been I realize
Now your love, forever lostFearless I pushed the switch, causing you
Suddenly to disappear
The echo of thunder again reduced
Never thought you would leave meNew day has come
But I'll never get over you
Tide is high
Access still denied
