Waves

James Iha

Waves wash over me, drag me out to sea
, the tide pulls slowlyTonight I feel so alone, tonight I wandered far from homeThe moon plays tricks on me, guides me safely, lights wash over meTonight I feel so alive, tonight with open eyesI know that you will never change
, your heart is cold and scarred will remainYou act so care free, pure fantasy
, but you're bad companyTonight I'm wiser now, tonight the whitest cloudsI know that you will never change
, your words are crude and cruel will fade away
