Camera Shy

Teen Idols

So well composed
You seem like absolute perfection
Much to perfect for a boy
Who is used to big rejection, so II watch you through a lens
Just slightly out of focus
You're so flawless in your smile
Although you never seem to notice and II never really thought that you'd be mine
Not in my dreams for a minute
I never really thought that you'd be mine
I'm tellin' myself to forget it
You wouldn't understand that you
Inspire me and fuel my photography
I never really thought that you'd be mine
I know that I'm just a dreamer (but)You never really know when worlds collide
It could create something special
Or maybe we would just all explode and die
I guess I'm just too camera shy
