

Shallow

Serial Joe

Lyrics: dan stadnicki & ryan dennis

Music: serial joe

© 1999 So close yet so distant

Fading face embrace is resistant

Words kept hidden

And the shadows dark

Your forbidden heart is shallow

Your emotions are hollow

You haven't learned it's time 'cause you ain't comin' back

'cause you ain't comin' back

'cause you ain't comin' back

'cause you ain't comin' back It'll never be the same old song

It will never be the same

The cards are stacked

And time's run out

And everything's a game

So sing me your lullaby 'cause I need to know why

Why I keep falling',

Keep fallin' 'cause you ain't comin' back

'cause you ain't comin' back You know you're shallow

Used to be on the top, but now you've dropped

Lost all your common sense

And now your brain's stopped

There nothing left in your mind except yourself

You gave it all up - your home, your friends, and your health

Now you're out on your own, you've lost your soul

Get a hold of yourself - know your role So close yet so distant

Fading face embrace is resistant

Words kept hidden

And the shadows dark

Your forbidden heart is shallow,

Your emotions are hollow

You haven't learned it's time 'cause you ain't comin' back
