

Heaven Ascended

Landscapes

Father time, Is more of a man than me In sifting sands, slumberland fades empty lonely nights forgotten when tumbling down If only I knew what will become of me now Dear wandering eyes lower your gaze from mine cause death becomes all that you see filling your gut as you feed off the weak
Dear absent mind
I guess the distraction of time will ascertain all that you let die so sink back and dream as you sleep desperately
Dear Modern Earth
sever your astral body cause i am the cancer you breath until you are sick to the teeth violently
Dear dreary nights
I'm ill willed in melancholy for nothing amounts of me ascending to say your goodnight close your eyes
close your eyes
