Underneath the Leaves

John Vanderslice

All hail the swelling sun, as acid seeps and autumn bleeds
And the glowing has just begun
Every winter time is kindly now, the ground is sprouting out
I got my shirt off and my face up against the groundAnd I found the key underneath the leaves
And I was set free
I found the truth underneath the leaves
And I was completeAll hail the setting sun, Nikki I'm coming down
I'm coming down in everyone
I shut my eyes and I see patterns of things
In grids of baby toys and flying drones, unspeakable fiendsI found the key underneath the leaves
And I was set free
I found the truth underneath the leaves
And I was complete
