Heart In Chains

Elis

Your cold, cold heart has drowned my life in pain
Your cold, cold heart has tortured my mind and soulYou have never learnt to leave your prison
Your heart lies in chains and who will break them
Your heart lies in chainsMaybe you will find a way to forgive yourself
Your cold, cold heart has drowned my life in pain
Maybe one day you will find the peace for your mind
Your cold, cold heart has tortured my mind and soulYou have drowned my life
You have tortured my mind
You made wounds so deepIt tears you all apart, restrained emotions
You're denying all your feelings and it will break you
You're denying all your feelingsMaybe you will find a way to forgive yourself
Your cold, cold heart has drowned my life in pain
Maybe one day you will find the peace for your mind
Your cold, cold heart has tortured my mind and soulMaybe you will find a way to forgive yourself
Your cold, cold heart has drowned my life in pain
Maybe one day you will find the peace for your mind
Your cold, cold heart has tortured my mind and soul

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/