

Room With a View

Mesh

First thing he does when he climbs out of bed
He searches out a place to drink his daily bread
 He wraps himself up tight in alcohol
It keeps him warm at night, like grandmas shawl
 When he was a child, with everything planned
 And his body was clean
 Now he sits all alone
In a room with a view of the brick wall he's run into Life has a way of leaving people like him stained
 First thing she does when she goes out at night
 She sells a smile to get what fills her inside
She brings plenty home and slowly gets stoned in a room by herself
She sits all alone in a room with a view of the brick wall she's run into Life has a way of leaving people like us stained
