

Shadow Puppets

CoCo and the Butterfields

Six thirty in the morning, and I'm waiting for the sun to tickle me
To hoist me up out of my sleep
It's eight and I'm yawning, I'm nervous for today
To win, to lose, to take a bow, not sure what I'll say
I'm sticking to the certainty that we could throw a thought though I'm putting in the keys
As if I hadn't told you, I'll draw a speech, I'll paint a note, read you all the things I wrote
It's up to youShadow puppets in the dark cannot move very far
They just stick to the wall
Shadow puppets on the moon, and I know I'll see you soon
Because I'm hoping in the sun, hoping in the sunWatching the big hand overtake his younger kin, and knowing full well that he'll be the one to win
What's the need for expressing what I mean in such a code, when all you do is hang your head and sigh?
It's lunch and I'm starving, bacon bap or maybe two, a cup of tea, I'll suck a mint just to put me in the mood
By now you haven't shown up, my candle's running thin, and I know, that I'm not the one to win this time
Shadow puppets in the dark cannot move very far
They just stick to the wall
Shadow puppets on the moon, and I know I'll see you soon
Because I'm hoping in the sun, hoping in the sunShadow puppets in the dark cannot move very far
They just stick to the wall
Shadow puppets on the moon, and I know I'll see you soon
Because I'm hoping in the sun, hoping in the sunThat's why I am here hoping, that's why I am here holding on That's why I am here hoping, that's why I am here holding on
That's why I am here hoping, that's why I am here holding on That's why I am here hoping, that's why I am hereShadow puppets in the dark cannot move very far
They just stick to the wall
Shadow puppets on the moon, and I know I'll see you soon
Because I'm hoping in the sun, hoping in the sun
Shadow puppets in the dark cannot move very far
They just stick to the wall
Shadow puppets on the moon, and I know I'll see you soon Because I'm hoping in the sun, hoping in the sunI am hoping in the sun, hoping in the sun, I am hoping in the sun
I am hoping in the sun, hoping in the sun, I am hoping in the sun
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>