

Whisper (Live in Tulsa)

Chris McLeod

There was a time
The sun would shine
The sparrow would sing
And with every step
I felt your breath
So close to me But now, its been so long
Since i heard that song
Or felt you breathe I dont hear a single word
But im listening
The writing on the wall is blurred
And faded
I know that im not giving up
But sometimes silence is not enough
I just need a single word
But ill keep waiting for a whisper So dark and cold
I need a hand to hold
To lead me home
I dont have the fight
To get me through the night
I cant do it all alone I spent a thousand words
And still havent heard
Anything returned I cant hear a single word
But im listening
The writing on the wall is blurred
And faded
I know that im not giving up
But sometimes silence is not enough
I just need a single word
And im still waiting for a whisper
And ill keep waiting for a whisper There is a time for the sun to shine
The sparrow will sing
