

Girl That I Am Now

Loretta Lynn

Mhm mhm mhm oh could he love the girl that I am now
Tonight I'm in his arms but he just don't seem the same

I cheated and I'm guilty my heart can't stand this pain

I let passions fill my mind from my heart and conscience blind

I feel I'm mighty low and I pray he'll never know

He love the girl I used to be could he love the girl that I am now

[ steel - piano ]

It almost breaks my heart when he says that he loves me

I know that I'm not worthy and that's what troubles me

If he do what I had done could he still feel just the same

Or would he feel the way I do guilty and a shame

He love the girl I used to be could he love the girl that I am now

Mhm mhm mhm oh could he love the girl that I am now
