Sweating Blood

Impending Doom

Suffering and glory are the greatest powers that history has ever seen.
I want to live a life worth writing about and more, because I lived a life, a life worth dying for.Faith! ... Walk with me!We have made it my friends, we're the closest generation to the end.
They will never silence us with torture or in their prisons.
We have made it my friends, we're the closest generation to the end.
They will never silence us with torture or in their prisons.Tears will roll down our cheeks and our souls will get restless,
But we will not be afraid of the lion's teeth in our face.
I will grab the beast by his mane and scream at the top of my lungs.We have made it my friends, we're the closest generation to the end.
They will never silence us with torture or in their prisons.
We have made it my friends, we're the closest generation to the end.
They will never silence us with torture or in their prisons.Our love is stronger than death. I will never deny my faith.
I will never deny my faith. I will never deny my faith (my faith). Forever!
