Surely

Black Dub

If he refuses I'd still go on
Till the heaven and earth are gone
Time may rage but rage in vain
My designs unchanged remainNight is my shepherd, a moonlight is my guide, yeah
You were close by, now the distance is so wide
You found me blinds, you taught me how to see
Now it's so hard to have you away from meSurely you were meant to be mine
Surely you were meant to be mineYou command my hand to write
In the dark hours of deep midnight
Your love is a love, a love like no other
Wings of joy forever flutterSurely you were meant to be mine
Surely you were meant to be mine
Surely you were meant to be mine
Surely you were meant to be mineFortune favors the brave they say
But my bravery could not convince me to stay onIf he refuses I'd still go on
Till the heaven and earth are gone
Fortune favors the brave they say
My bravery could not convince me to staySurely, surely you were meant to be mine
Surely you were meant to be mine
Surely you were meant to be mine
Surely you were meant to be mineSurely, surely, surely
Surely you were meant to be mine

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/