

Hungover

Ke$ha

And now the sun is rising
And now the long walk back home, back home
There's just so many faces
But no one I need to know, need to know
In the dark I can't fight it, I fake 'til I'm numb
But in the bright light I taste you on my tongue
Now the party's over and everybody's gone
I'm left here with myself and I wonder what went wrong
And now my heart is broken like the bottles on the floor
Does it really matter or am I just hungover you?
Or am I just hungover? Even my dirty laundry
Everything just smells like you, like you
And now my head is throbbing
Every song is out of tune just like you
In the dark I can't fight it 'til it disappears
But in the daylight I taste you in my tears
Now the party's over and everybody's gone
I'm left here with myself and I wonder what went wrong
And now my heart is broken like the bottles on the floor
Does it really matter or am I just hungover you? Now I've got myself looking like a mess
Standing alone, here at the end try to pretend
But no, I put up my fight, but this is it this time
'Cause I'm here at the end tryin' to pretend
Here at the end, tryin' to pretend
Now the party's over and everybody's gone
I'm left here with myself and I wonder what went wrong
And now my heart is broken like the bottles on the floor
Does it really matter or am I just hungover you? Now the party's over and everybody's gone
I'm left here with myself and I wonder what went wrong
And now my heart is broken like the bottles on the floor
Does it really matter or am I just hungover you?
Or am I just hungover?
