Bright Star

Celtic Myst

Is there one bright star, one bright star in Heaven?See the beauty in the sky, see it sparkles in your eye
Crown our hearts with royal breath like white souls awaiting birth
Push away this painted shell, painted shellIs there one bright star, one bright star in Heaven?
Is there one bright star, one bright star in Heaven?
Are there stars that light? Light the dark horizonHear the beauty of this sound, how it echoes all around
Play this part with nobleness, straight and in the wilderness
Hide no more this future flame, future flameIs there one bright star, one bright star in Heaven?
Are there stars that light? Light the dark horizonIs there one bright star, one bright star in Heaven?
