

That's a Woman

Celtic Thunder

woman, such a delicate creature, every feature, needs to be loved from the start be tender, and she'll surrender, offend her, and she will harden her heart a delicate creature is somethin' she ain't, but take it from me that's a woman that isn't an angel, that isn't a saint, but take it from me that's a woman she know how to please and she knows how to play, take it from me that's a woman forget about honor, love, and obey, she'll take you and break you and throw you away, that's a woman, that's a woman she knows every move and she knows every trick, take it from me that's a woman how to kill with a word, and cut to the quick, take it from me that's a woman how to look through you as if you're not there, take it from me that's a woman how to say no with a flick of her hair, she'll turn you and burn you and not even care that's a woman, that's a woman

faithful and true, that's a woman, trusting in you, that's a woman gentle and constantly caring, strong as the love, she is sharing when you look in the eyes, of a woman, (she's a woman) and through the disguise of a woman (every woman's the same, she's just playing a game, she's a woman) you'll see it all there, there's romance in the air, nothing else, can compare, that's a woman woman, so soft and beguiling, see her smiling, and feel your heart all aglow enfold her, lay her head on your shoulder, and hold her, till you just can't let her go treat her as if you just don't give a damn, that's how to handle a woman be more of a stallion, and less of a lamb, that's how to handle a woman keep her hanging around, then she's ready to burst, that's how to handle a woman try to bad, do the worst do unto others, but just do it first, to a woman, to a woman be wise be wary, and be on your guard, that's how you handle a woman if you feel that you're falling, you better be hard, cause that's how to handle a woman don't let her closer, and don't let her in, that's how to handle a woman cause if you allow her. to get under your skin, my friend it's the end, cause you ain't gonna win, with a woman, with a woman look at her body, look at her move, now that's what I call a woman I'm thinking now, I've got something to prove, cause that's what I call a woman all my moves are stolen here, cause I've got to get through this woman the pipes the pipes, are calling here, I think I could be falling, here. for this woman, what a woman!

faithful and true, that's a woman, (couldn't be true, she's just playing with you, she's a woman) trusting in you, that's a woman (trusting in who? he doesn't have a clue, what a woman) gentle and constantly caring (just let it be, this one's for me, what a woman) strong as the love, sahe is sharing when you look in the eyes, of a woman, and through the disguise of a woman

(who'd have thought, id get caught, what a woman!)
