Brother

Adelitas Way

I've got a lot that's on my mind today
But every man got a story to tell
My brother watched his life go down the drain
His addiction took control of him
Everytime I see my brother look at me
I turn my head, to me he's deadSo much pressure, so much pain
Everything to lose, nothing to gain
But I'm going on again
It's everything that he ever dreamed
Says things he doesn't mean
But I'm going on againPlease my mother, don't cry today
I know it's hard, cause he's your first born son
Don't blame yourself for the decisions made
I think it's time, we just let him goSo much pressure, so much pain
Everything to lose
and nothing to gain
But I'm going on again
It's everything that he ever dreamed
Says things he doesn't mean
But I'm going on againAll the times you lie
Tell me you change
But you never did
You just walked away
It always stays the same
Every time you cried
And you felt afraid
Look at what you did
Now just walk away
You'll never changeSo much pressure, so much pain
Everything to lose
and nothing to gain
But I'm going on againSo much pressure, so much pain
Everything to lose
and nothing to gain
But I'm going on again
It's everything that he ever dreamed
Says things he doesn't mean
But I'm going on again
