

Life Is Great

Echo Orbiter

I don't think you've noticed a catatonic recluse, erasing the years
A transcendental treatment of inner suicide, casting everyone away

Life is great here in my head
It is my day; what is and isn't real?
Life is great in dreams while sleeping it away
A cruel joke upon waking
Continue through the day?.

Disconnected phone lines; hidden behind locked doors, with comfort in books
Resigning to being alone; what does it matter if I never leave this room again?
