

My Confessions

Pop Evil

Never could reach the stars so many miles apart so far that we couldn't recognize you're like a work of art so many lines to draw we never knew to apologize All the words that I knew that you held in All the walls that I built start to cave in
As we start to decline
I realize you're not mine
I refuse to believe that you're leaving When your days turn my nights into seasons
It's like we're frozen in time
(CHORUS)
Before we fall apart meet me halfway
my confession,
these are my confessions
With every breath you say
meet me half way
My confession,
these are my confessions
Green grass in the past in the rear view All eyes on the sun, trying to break through when side by side, we still collide With a pulse and a heart that is beating We can stitch up the flaws top the bleeding rewind the time, bring back to life I refuse to believe that it's over all my days and the nights getting colder It's like we're frozen inside
(REPEAT CHORUS)
So carry me, carry me under I need a lesson in starting over

Just one more confession
One more confession
