

Silhouette In Red

Bonnie Tyler

(jennifer blake)

Producer for bonnie: jennifer blake Oh I know you're a dreamer

There's a child in your eyes

You save up all your memories

You're tired of all the lies

I hear you cry for someone

Please someone heal the pain

A hand to hold and guide her

Through the fire and through the rain

Oh babe it's not too late now

Don't say it has to end

Been through so much together, babe

I will always be your friend* you are just like an angel

You're just like an angel

So lucky to have met

My silhouette in red

You are just like an angel

You're just like an angel

I never will forget

My silhouette in red Oh maybe you are lonely

I'm afraid to ask you why

You'll turn to hide in silence

It hurts so much inside

You'll lead me through your darkness

The colours of your dreams

Dreams so full of questions

The reasons plain to see

You don't have all the answers

And no one ever will

You'll search the whole world all over, babe

Learn so much more, yet still* repeat When you see her, she'll be searching

For truth and destiny

The answer that she looks

I hope one day she'll see*repeat
