Waterfall

Ash

I'm grey today because, because,
And I can't find another way,
My mind takes another step,
Out through that grey door,
Hold me still I'm shivering 'cos I'm not here,
My face it grows a little paler every minute,
As I leave the turmoil of my home,
My heart,
Listen to my friends oh so far away,
Disappear but you're here,
Remember laughter with tears,
I can feel you out there somewhere,
But god it's vague so unreal,
What you do,
I thought that you knew,
As fresh as dew,
As dusk as you,
You fade more as the minutes shift,
Remain in fragments everywhere,
I love you but you wont give anything away,
There's nothing you need more than today,
You can trust me I've got much to say,
Now I'm coming back,
Back into the day.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/