

One Touch

Juice Newton

I don't feel you no more and I'm dying inside
There's no reaching for you that I haven't tried
You keep on talking when there's nothing to say
You tell me you love me, then you turn me away
Was a time when your touch could tear me apart
Without a word, you could talk to my heart
Now you talk to me like you got nothing to say
You move around me like I'm in the way
We talk and we talk, but I still haven't heard
One touch, baby, is worth a thousand words
One touch is worth a thousand words
Keep on talking, but you still haven't heard
One touch is worth a thousand words
One touch, oh yeah, one touch
One touch, baby, is worth a thousand words
Oh, whoa...I don't feel you no more and I'm dying inside
There's no reaching for you that I haven't tried
There's no use pretending and there's no excuse
It's either there or it's not, if it's not, what the use?
I'm screaming out loud, but I can't hear the words
One touch, baby, is worth a thousand words
One touch is worth a thousand words
Keep on talking, but you still haven't heard
One touch, it's worth a thousand words
One touch is worth a thousand words
Keep on talking, but you still haven't heard
One touch is worth a thousand words
I said one touch, oh yeah, one touch
One touch, baby, is worth a thousand
One touch, baby, it's worth a thousand
One touch, baby, is worth a thousand words
One touch
One touch
Oh, give me one touch
