

I Could Have Told You

Frank Sinatra

I could have told you she'd hurt you
She'd love you a while then desert you
If only you asked
I could have told you so I could have saved you some crying
Yes, I could have told you she's lying
But you were in love
And didn't want to know I hear her now
As I toss and turn and try to sleep
I hear her now
Making promises she'll never keep And soon it's over and done with
She'll find someone new to have fun with
Through all of my tears
I could have told you so I hear her now
As I toss and turn and try to sleep
I hear her now
Making promises she'll never keep And soon it's over and done with
She'll find someone new to have fun with
Through all of my tears
I could have told you so

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>