That Isnâ€™t You

Sofi de la Torre

He wants me back, he's blue
Wants to be the one I can open up to
Wants to be jealous then fight and make up
Wants to make love (love, love, love, love)
But I can't say his name
I can't even look straight into his face
Man, he's been around, he's been everywhere
And I don't think I'm down with a love that comes in pairs
All I ever wanted was a man to be true
But that isn't you, that isn't you
All I ever needed was a man to be true
But that isn't you, no that isn't you
He wants me back, he's lost
Must've had his kiss and tell overdose
Wants to be better, grow up and settle down
Maybe he forgot it is a small town
You sleep around, word goes around
You sleep around and you get caught
Man, he's been around, he's been everywhere
And I don't think I'm down with a love that comes in pairs
All I ever wanted was a man to be true
But that isn't you, that isn't you
All I ever needed was a man to be true
But that isn't you, no that isn't you
No, I'm not okay with it
No, I am not fine with it
I'm not even over it
I'm not fine with any of this shit
Don't trust my own shadow
Been emptied and shallowed
And I don't trust my own shadow
All I ever wanted was a man to be true
But that isn't you, that isn't you
All I ever needed was a man to be true
But that isn't you, no that isn't you
