

Serotonin (tom Elmhirst Mix)

Mystery Jets

Meet me in the middle of the morning
When the crows fly highest in the sky
Couldn't you hear me calling?
I was up looking for you all night Oh, but I never found you
No matter how hard I tried to
Oh, no, I never found you
Sara, if only you knew Serotonin, you're burning a hole into my heart
Felt like I was floating
But now you're coming down with you so
Down with you so hard Meet me at the bottom of the ocean
Feel its fingers tickling our skin
You mix your magic potion
The old familiar feeling starts to kick in But now it's fading and I can't hear what you're saying
It feels like it's slipping through my fingers
It's fading and I can't hear what you're saying
It feels like you're slipping, but It's just the serotonin
It's burning a hole into my heart
Felt like I was frozen
Yeah, but now I'm coming up so hard Serotonin
Girl, you're really tearing me apart
It felt like I was frozen
Yeah, but now I'm coming up so hard Sara, serotonin, Sara, serotonin
Now I'm coming up so hard
Sara, serotonin, Sara, serotonin
And now I'm coming up so hard So hard
So hard
Serotonin

Songwriters

FISH, KAI CHRISTIAN DAVID / HARRISON, STEPHEN BLAINE / HARRISON, HENRY WILLIAM COPE / REES, WILLIAM BLAISE BENWELL / TRIVEDI, KAPIL Published by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>