Order of the Saviour

Pave the Path

Cold wind blows, ocean deforms
The savior is here for us all
So turn another page
Towards the false dawn in the restless coiled maze
In the name of hell, hands to the shovel
Otherwise, follow the path with the ever leading light

I repeat word for word
These are the notions these shall ye sow
We grew without sunlight
So too does the gain that we circled with pain
In the name of hell, hands to the shovel
Sacrifice, follow the path with the ever leading light

Join the darkness we shall see another great world
Picture in your mind, no orders nor control

Join the darkness we shall see another great world
With candlelit skies we construct, we confront
