Salvations Malevolence

Integrity

severed forever, i`m never getting up again i`ve breathed in life - don`t want this to ever end stolen glance and I can`t to save the end of me temptation fills the house - sin of iniquities cast shadows walk into my light all my soul consumed by pride i`ve feared the heavens for far too long await this moment with open arms denied ascent, forbitten salvation this blind contmpt can`t go unanswered on my knees, i can`t breath in this infernal damnatio seasons in the size of days, i wait confined by salvation`s malevolence to decide my fate all alone, i call your near you`ve shown compassion...and sincere look at the place that i`m in blanked by your prejudice, your fears, your ignorance still, in the corner i see them stalking me they taste the cowardice in the air enhancing their hunger, they move in closer terror blinds, salvation`s gratitude confines i can almost feel the demon ingested soul
i`ve sworn eternal vengeance to the deceit that let me go revere the hatred in his eyes before my turn never arrives avenge my soul, unjustly sized i`ve looked and i`ve tried can`t see the reason between the lies baptisms curse involves entirely casting upon an immense dedision saviours scorn, crown of thorns salvation.
