

Impossible Case

A Telemetry

you look to fill
that inner need
trying so hard
just to please

feeling left out
so empty inside
you lost the will
the need to survive

fighting those voices
that ring in your head
to make a choice
not easily lead

it's a hussle
just to live your own life
so often an impossible case

to find answers
settled in your own right
so often an impossible case

holding back
to a place well known
target fixed
minds not your own

to seek relief
some peace in time
all energy
crosses the line

released to solace
the bell sounded
to wake again
keeping it grounded

it's a hussle

to find answers

all through the ages
quest for roots unseen seeking different stages slave to the grinding wheel

it's a hussle

to find answers
