

Show Your Eyes

Roses Are Red

A sense of wonder, finding what is real
What went on here and taught me how to feel
We're alone in the memories of how we used to be
It's our time to be honest, our time to be free You're still breathing
 Show your eyes to me
 Your heart's still beating
Show your eyes, show your eyes Frozen under, at times we pay no mind
 What went on here and taught me how to shine
It's our time to be honest, our time to be free You're still breathing
 Show your eyes to me
 Your heart's still beating
Show your eyes, show your eyes We're alone here in the memories
 Of how we used to be
 Whoa, our time to be free
Whoa, our time to be free You're still breathing
 Show your eyes to me
 Your heart's still beating
Show your eyes, show your eyes You're still breathing
 Show your eyes to me
 Your heart's still beating
Show your eyes, show your eyes
