

Unbreakable

Nick Howard

Standing on a ledge see the past before me
Pick out all the bruises one by one
Feel a little cold but there's warm there somewhere
But not where you come from

Staring at my face in a broken mirror
Pick up all the pieces make them one
You might be strong, but you'll never hurt me
There's nothing stronger than love

Kick me down, break my skin
Call me names call me anything
So come on try your best to hurt me
You'll never see me suffering

I'm unbreakable
I'm stronger than I've ever known
I'm unbreakable
You're never going to bring me down down down

Life is like a puzzle spread out on the table
Maybe I'm the piece that will never quite fit
Say what you want but you'll never phase me
I quite like me like this

Kick me down, scrape my skin
Call me names you'll never win
Sticks and stones could never cut through my thick skin

I'm unbreakable
I'm stronger than I've ever known
I'm unbreakable
You're never going to bring me down down down
You'll never change me, I'm standing on a higher ground
I'm unbreakable
You're never going to bring me down down down

I see a light in the tunnel and it fades you out
The angel on my shoulder's gonna shut you down

Help me fight every battle till you go away
I will never break

I am not you victim you can't hurt me
Here I stand with my head held high
