Bleeding Through

We're hated, we're bleeding
We're loving, you're losing
Our lives are all about to changeWe're hated, we're bleeding
We're loving, you're losing
Our lives are all about to changeThere go the lights
To the world I've made in my head now
And I'll make the stand, I'll scratch out my eyes
I won't stop till you are deadI hope that and pray that one day you will realize
You were always my biggest inspiration
The pain you've caused has built who I've becomeNow we might as well be strangers
Won't be a corpse so you can drag your dead
I've been blessed by the fires
By the fires of your hellThere go the lights
To the world I've made in my head now
And I'll make the stand, I'll scratch out my eyes
I won't stop till you are deadI hope that and pray that one day you will realize
You were always my biggest inspiration
The pain you've caused has built who I've becomeNow we might as well be strangers
Won't be a corpse so you can drag your dead
I've been blessed by the fires
By the fires of your hellWe're hated, we're bleeding
We're loving, you're losing
Our lives are all about to changeWe're hated, we're bleeding
We're loving, you're losing
Our lives are all about to changeThere go the lights
To the world I've made in my head now
And I'll make the stand, I'll scratch out my eyes
I won't stop till you are deadWe're hated, we're bleeding
We're loving, you're losing
We're hated, we're bleeding
We're loving, you're losing
