

Serenity

Shadows Fall

Anticipation of a reward so pleasing
Inhibitions ensnaring me like shackles
Unrelenting urge to quench, to gratify
All consuming senses of the primitiveAnd I remain drenched
In the excess of every movement
Serenity in this repetition
Within the peace of this meditationConvergence of spirit and the physical Achievement of pure integration
No longer distort the true expression of the soulAnd I remain drenched
In the excess of every movement
Serenity of this repetition
Forever be searching forwardNothing remains left behind
Forever be clawing forward
Continuance of my line
Writhing with virilityInstinct to perpetuate
Divert mortality
Extend my soul beyond
Anticipation of a reward so pleasingInhibitions ensnaring me like shackles
Unrelenting urge to quench, to gratify
All consuming senses of the primitiveAnd I remain drenched
In the excess of every movement
Serenity of this repetition
Forever be searching forwardNothing remains left behind
Forever clawing forward
Continuance of my life
