Pure

Orgy

Don't you bring me down
Kick me when I'm downPut me away again
[Incomprehensible] every now and then
Your bottle spinning my fate
As I hold my breath
And you say you don't want any part of this now
Where did it go so wrong?I guess I'm finally finding out
It's got me tripping now
The little things, everywhere I go
It's such a shame
Why you held on, so long?
Why don't you confuse me a little more?And I never thought that you
Who would believe that I wasn't good enough?
Those things I never thought you'd do
You got the best of meYou got the best of me when you said
You didn't love me anymore
And I know this will be the last timeYou've got me running in circles like a freak
So why do you try to kick me when I'm down
I'm down, all the way downPut me away again
[Incomprehensible] every now and then
Your bottle spinning my fate
While I hold my breath
Don't sweat the lies that you say I control
Confuse me a little moreAnd I never thought that you
Who would believe that I wasn't good enough
Those things I never thought you'd do
You and all your secrets don't need meYou got the best of me when you said
You didn't love me anymore
And I know this will be the last timeYou've got me running in circles like a freak
So why do you try to kick me when I'm down
I'm downSo when you say you've let me go, let me go
'Cause you didn't care about this, sorry you
I guess you'll be all right
Now that you've got things to go your way
How could you be like this?
This it the last time but you don't hear me thoughYou got the best of me when you said
You didn't love me anymore
And I know this will be the last timeYou've got me running in circles like a freak
So why do you try to kick me when I'm down

I don't understand the way that you're thinking
Thinking, AndreaWho would believe that I wasn't good enough?
Who would believe that I wasn't good enough?
Confuse me a little moreWho would believe that I wasn't good enough?
Who would believe that I wasn't good enough?
