

Overreaction

Voivod

It's coming over you Can you see the phosphorescence of the factory?
Moving away, out of this territory
The systems became overload
The warning lights were on that night Nobody knew what was going on
But it will be here for months or even years It's coming over me The ugly underside of the nuclear energy
Brings us today this atomic calamity
The malfunction of the instruments
For this blunders, we have to go to hell It's coming over us Don't be scared, the engines exploded
But it's just a technological risk
And this thing will continue throughout the ages
The evolution can't run without damage Mother nature can't hear you
The China Syndrome will die much later than you
The China Syndrome, the China Syndrome In the air, it smells bad
Feel the disease, the nucleararchy
We're lucky, we'll die young
It's hard to endure to be a mutant
The transformation is almost complete Research has no end, containing the power
The dangerous results, it's not our fault
Create the force, we got no fear
Lock the doors, we're engineers Awaiting to suffocate, purchasing the program
Vomiting the pollution, of energy games
Create the force, we got no fear
Lock the doors, we're engineers Welcome to the China Syndrome
It's an over, overreaction
