

Speak Of The Devil (Album Version)

A Day to Remember

This is my vengeance for all the wrongs you've formed against us

You always get me wrong

My whole existence revolves around the progress that we've made

And I'll never be walked on again I'm on the edge of the rooftop thinking nobody will ever know

I hope that you want to be the one to see the distance from the road This is our triumph over all the forms of filth you've spread

We'll never let this go. Right from the very start I knew this day would come

Tonight's the night we silence you

There's nowhere left to run I'm on the edge of the rooftop thinking nobody will ever know

I hope that you want to be the one to see the distance from the road Let this be your reminder

I'm everything that you wanted to be

Hope for the best but it's over

And you thought you were better than me Such a pretty picture, your chalk line on the ground

I hope you die

Songwriters

EWTAH, JOHNNY Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Another Victory Publishing Song Discussions is protected by U.S.
Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>