Morning Sun

The Beautiful Girls

When i wake into the Morning Sun, Well i feel another day has just begun.
I see those clouds up in the sky, and i don't care, everything is going to be alright.And i want you to know, some feelings come and go but for you mine will never change.
It's harder than it seems to know what to believe, here in my mind i hold you close.i got to keep on walking with my head held high, because i see, the sky on a day like
this, and i know, i will be free, oh i will be...freeWell i have never seen a face like yours, It makes me smile just when i think of you for sure.
and all we have is all we have to show, and all we need is here for free. Just thought i'd let you know.And when i hold you close, it's you i love the most, you take my loneliness away.
I saw you in my dreams and then you came to me.
will you be mine?, i only hope.i got to keep on walking with my head held high, because i see,
the sky on a day like this and i know, i will be freeAnd i want you to know, some feelings come and go but for you mine will never change.
It's harder than it seems to know what to believe,
here in my mind i hold you close.i got to keep on walking
the sky on a day like
