

Underneath The Gun

Limp Bizkit

Go I stare into space and hope we're not alone
Am i searching for something that's better than home?
I've been working so hard
Stress is tremendous and pressure is endless
No one on this planet like me to be friends with
I've been working so hard
I've been working so hard I'm underneath the sun
And I'm underneath the gun I'm losing my mind and i know there's no remedy
I've become a failure who's living on memories
I've been working so hard
Loneliness can't be cured with no medicine
Look to the stars so they'll straighten my head again
I've been working so hard
I've been working so hard I'm underneath the sun
And I'm underneath the gun
I'm a fool to think the blame goes away
Such a fool to take the blame and run away Yeah, I'm underneath the sun
And I'm underneath the gun
I'm a fool to think the blame goes away
Such a fool to take the blame and run away Sometimes
I beat up myself, i
Lock my own way, i
Cloud all my thoughts
Please go away
Oh, nevermind me
I'm checking out now
And won't ever come back
Now that my life doesn't exist Yeah, you're right, how do it feel to be right, knowing that i was wrong?
Nothing is right when you're wrong Yeah, you're right, how do it feel to be right, knowing that i was wrong?
Nothing is right when you're wrong Yeah, I'm underneath the sun
And I'm underneath the gun
I'm a fool to think the blame goes away
Such a fool to take the blame and run away I'm a fool to think the blame goes away
Such a fool to take the blame

Songwriters

Smith, Mike / Rivers, Samuel Robert / Durst, Fred / Otto, John Everett Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>