

Grand Canyon

Susan Ashton

I've seen You calm the waters raging
In the rivers of my mind
Your spirit blows a breeze into my soul
And I've felt the fire that warms the heart
Knowing that it comes from You
Then I've let it turn as cold as a stone
Sometimes I feel like I'm as close as your shadow and
Sometimes I feel like I'm looking up
At You from the bottom of the

Grand Canyon, so small and so far
From the Grand Canyon, with a hole in my heart
And I'm a long way from where I know I need to be
When there's a Grand Canyon between You and me

I've had the faith that gave me strength
For moving any mountainside
I've felt the solid ground beneath my feet
But I've had the bread of idleness while
Drinking from a well of doubt
And it shakes the core of all I believe
Sometimes I feel like I'm as close as your shadow and
Sometimes I feel like I'm looking up
At you from the bottom of the

When there's a Grand Canyon between You and me

Sometimes I feel like I'm as close as your shadow and
Sometimes I feel like I'm looking up
At you from the bottom of the

When there's a Grand, Grand Canyon between You and me
