

Apology

Undertow

I can't deny what I had spoken,taking back all that I said.
I wish I could erase those words I had chosen just to get you back again.
Now I wallow in sorrow to the fact that you are gone.
I place the blame on myself,admitting that I was wrong.

I realize the damage I caused to secede from the pain.
The words that slipped from my lips were used for my gain.
The last thing I wanted was to hurt you like that but my selfishness had its way and sympathy was what I lacked.
I wish I could take it back.(x4)
