

Fallout

Alter Bridge

Another river runs against the grain
A loner is born, he's filled with anguish
Deep within he's dying every day just to find his way
He is lost, so consumed
Can you feel him somewhere in the fallout?
He is someone just like you who is lost to find the truth
Can you hear him? From the fire he cries out
For the answer to be shown as he dares to walk the fallout on his own
Oh yeah
So frustrated, he walks the light alone
Courage sets him apart, he is so faithless
All he once embraced he now disowns
He let it go, all the while he still waits
Can you feel him somewhere in the fallout?
He is someone just like you who is lost to find the truth
Can you hear him? From the fire he cries out
For the answer to be shown as he dares to walk the fallout on his own
He left behind, he's walking a burning
Still he tries to unearth the meaning to this life
Cast aside, he's weary, a bleeding to behold
Disconnected, still he fights the truth alone
Can you feel him somewhere in the fallout
He is someone just like you who is lost to find the truth
Can you hear him? From the fire he cries out
For the answer to be shown as he dares to walk the fallout on his own
