

Greatest

Marty Ray Project

MMMMMMMM
Well I might break your heart
But I'll take all the pieces
That I tore apart
And put 'em right,
Right back, together again
And you might feel like
You've been left behind
And you're wonderin if
Life ever will do you right
So is it force or
Is it truth?
That pain is just a
A night we go through
But joy comes swiftly
When sun shines on you
Cause you're the greatest
That I could ever do Well I know
They'll be times
When you think
I don't love you
And you'll start to cry
But remember I live only
For you
And when you
Say your prayers
By your bedside
With the moon in your hair
Remember
I'm always praying for you So is it force or
Is it truth?
That pain is just a
A night we go through
But joy comes swiftly
When sun shines on you
Cause you're the greatest
I could ever do Well you might break my heart
But you'll take all the pieces
That you tore apart

And put 'em right,
Right back
Together againYeahAnd I see
In your eyes
That you don't Really want to leave me behind
But you must go and carry onWoh!
Is it force or
Is it truth?
Because you're the greatest
That I could ever doYou're the greatest
That I could ever do
That your daddy ever did.
