

Enrich

Late to Bloom

Enrich

Words by Shane Lasseter

Music by Jeff Bailey & Shane Lasseter

Follow the tide to enrich the flow
Lifes not full less deepening in knowledge of thyself my friend a friend indeed

Hollow the heart to enrich the mind
Ones more apt to fill with the treasures dear and the later less easy to break again and again

Followed
Swallowed
Follow her tide to enrich your flow

Swallowed
Followed
Swallow her tide to enrich your flow

But a breath of wine could breathe life into mine.

Swallow the sulk to enlight a glow
For inside of you will brighten and love for others now a remembrance

Followed
Swallowed
Follow her tide to enrich your flow

Swallowed
Followed
Swallow her tide to enrich your flow

But a touch-But a kiss-But a breath of wine so much
But a kiss-But a touch-As her eyes look far of mine
