Given Flight By Demons' Wings

Shai Hulud

This is not my true nature
I was not born as what I have come to beTo be gentle again
An angel's heart given flight by demon's wings
Faces certain deathDo not let this exterior deceive you
I can easily crush your spirit
My wounds bleed truth
Their voices are causticAnd with the words
A nasty sting from aim and precision of fact
"How can you be so cruel?"
It is not who I am
As it is the hate I feelI am a demon
A vicious fiend
Let me alone
I am a demon with a penchant
For other's miseryI am a demon
A vicious fiend
Let me alone in peace
To be the beast of a man
The world has made meI am prepared to fight humanity every day
For the rest of my life
Albeit, my mind and body
Yearn for tranquilityPeople that should earn my love
Consistently warrant my hate
I truly resent thisBreathe easy, friend
Let not bitter fruit sour your breath
You were once a gentlemanWhen friends fail
And mother is gone
When God is silent
And mates fall out of loveI still wake to confrontation
Alone and unflinchingI am not simply strong
I may very well be the strongest man
That ever lived
