

Talking

Dikta

time and time again things get out of hand words are thrown around did we build this house on sand?on every single block i hear a lonely knock and once we've heard enough we go reset the clockooohhh i'm not going down/backing down ooohhh
i'm not staying downwe try and we try to change the tide we try and we try to feel alivewe will stay here forever please don't ever say neverthe years go flying past we go from first to last when all is said and done we've really had a blastwe've come to realize that no-one gets the prize the real name of this game is to find the compromisewe don't need to beg we don't need to ask for anything why don't we just let go?hey, i'm talking to you yes, i'm talking to you
