

Blame (L.A. Remix)

Gravity Kills

Now take the blame I thought I could hear you
Echoing words of denial
Careful not to feel you near me
Clawing out at what you call life Hold on to what you want
Hold on to what you have
Hold on to where you are
Hold on to where I face the change, I've tasted pain
Digging a hole, now take the blame
I fell aside, I cast away
Covered in shame, now take the blame Thought I was beneath you
Crawling in your bed of lies
You infected me with envy
Tiny daggers in my eye Hold on to what you want
Hold on to what you have
Hold on to where you are
Hold on to where I face the change, I've tasted pain
Digging a hole, now take the blame
I fell aside, I cast away
Covered in shame, now take the blame Thought I could believe you
Selling me your big surprise
Only needing one more victim
Tearing down your one disguise Hold on to what you want
Hold on to what you have
Hold on to where you are
Hold on to where I face the change, I've tasted pain
Digging a hole, now take the blame
I fell aside, I cast away
Covered in shame, now take the blame Now take the blame
Now take the blame
Now take the blame, blame, blame
