Decide

Tinkerbell

Doesn't it make you nervous?
At least you could have tried
And if it doesn't disturb us
Couldn't just sit byAnd make a pact to ignore it
All of our secret needs
Becoming connected further
Giving a life to feed onYou let them decide
The course of my life
And you just stood by
You threw me asideIsn't it overwhelming
Living a lie inside
Causing so many problems
Hoping to just get byWhen will it all be over?
What would I have you say?
But you won't have to trouble
Yourself for me that wayYou let them decide
The course of my life
And you just stood by
You let them decideDidn't mean to complicate tomorrow
Didn't have to make you feel that way
Didn't come to irritate your morals
But then you pushed me far awayDidn't mean to complicate tomorrow
Didn't have to make you feel that way
Didn't come to irritate your morals
But then you pushed me far awayI just can't see why, oh oh
You neglected to try, oh oh
To move on with our lives
When we shared the goodbyeYou let them decide
The course of my life
We shared a goodbye
And you threw me asideYou'll never make that choice again
No not again
Will you affect my life again?
You'll never make that choice again
No not again
Will you affect my life again?
