She Sets Me Free

Tim Halperin

If I was a DJ, she would be on replay
If I were an ocean, she would be my breeze
I won't quit my day job, working hard for her love
Just like a backpack on her back, she carries me
And I don't remember falling, I don't remember why
I'm looking at this girl, wondering how I am her guyAnd the sunshine is taking over these days
Wrapped up in a blue sky
I won't ever say goodbye
Oh no, I don't need a blanket
With her love I think I'll make it
I don't have to fake it
Oh she sets me freeShe wears cherry chapstick, a vintage denim jacket
She likes to shop at Target for everything she needs
She runs without an iPod, she works without her shoes on
And when I'm singing love songs, she's my melody
And I don't remember falling, I don't remember why
I'm looking at this girl, wondering how I am her guyAnd the sunshine is taking over these days
Wrapped up in a blue sky
I won't ever say goodbye
Oh no, I don't need a blanket
With her love I think I'll make it
I don't have to fake it
Oh she sets me freeFreer than a raindrop, falling on the sidewalk
Flowing to the river, rushing to the sea
Freer than a blackhawk, flying over treetops
My love for her will not stopAnd the sunshine is taking over these days
Wrapped up in a blue sky
I won't ever say goodbye
Oh no, I don't need a blanket
With her love I think I'll make it
I don't have to fake itOh yeah the sunshine is taking over these days
Wrapped up in a blue sky
I won't ever say goodbye
Oh no, I don't need a blanket
With her love I think I'll make it
I don't have to fake it
Oh she sets me free
