

Your Own Special Way

Genesis

Go far enough and you will reach
A place where the sea runs underneath
And we'll see our shadow, high in the sky
Dying away in the night I've sailed the world for seven years
And left all I love behind in tears
Oh, won't you come back, wherever you are
I've been all alone long enough Because you, you, you have your own special way
Of holding my hand, holding above the water
Don't ever let go, no, no, no
You, you have your own special way
Of turning the world so it's facing the way that I'm going
Don't ever, don't ever stop. Now who's seen the wind not you or I
But as the ship moves she's passing by
But between you and me I really don't think
She knows where she's going at all And you, you, you have your own special way
Of holding my hand, holding above that water
Don't ever let go, no, no, no
Yes you, you, you have your own special way
Of turning the world so it's facing the way that I'm going
Don't ever, don't ever stop, oh What mean the dreams night after night
'Cause the man in the moon is a blinding light
Now won't you come here whoever you are
You've followed me quiet long enough Because you, you, you have your own special way
Of holding my hand, holding above the water
Don't ever let go, no, no, no
Yes you, you, you have your own special way
Of turning the world so it's facing the way that I'm going
Don't ever, oh don't ever leave me, oh
